

POSITIONING THE FREIGHT CART

When loading cases to the freight cart it is always a good idea to position it at an angle to the stack. By staging the cart at an angle you can keep it closer to the stack and will not have to move as far to reach the cart. At times you can reach from the stack to the cart without even taking a step, if you are working with a wide POWERLIFT® stance. If you can't reach the cart that way, be sure to move your feet as you transfer the load from the stack to the cart.
