

HANDLING LARGE HEAVY LOADS

For heavy items you want to use all the strength you have but it should be distributed throughout your entire body. This happens when you use a wide stance and when the load is held close to you. To do that if the load is large, tip it away from you and wrap yourself around the corner as you lift it!