

USING THE JACK HAMMER

It is hard enough to handle the jack hammer without adding your back into the job. Absorb the shock of the hammer and all the moving you must do with it, with your legs. Always keep a wide stance and keep your knees bent just a little. This way your legs act as shock absorbers and can take the stress of the job off your back. Work smart and use your legs!